United Overseas Insurance Partners with InsureMO and Unqork to Accelerate Digitisation and Expand Distribution Across Key ASEAN Markets

Singapore, 10 September 2025 - United Overseas Insurance (UOI), one of Singapore's leading general insurance providers, has announced a strategic partnership with InsureMO and Unqork to spearhead its core modernisation and strengthen its distribution and servicing capabilities across the ASEAN market. This collaboration will enable UOI to accelerate its digital transformation by utilising InsureMO's middleware platform and Unqork's Regenerative Application Development Platform technology to seamlessly integrate modern digital functionalities.

As a member of the UOB Group, UOI will leverage this partnership to unlock new opportunities within the rapidly growing bancassurance sector across the region, while also building and strengthening its non-bank distribution network—including intermediaries and ecosystem partnerships. By using InsureMO's flexible APIs and microservices, combined with Unqork's enterprise-grade platform, UOI can modernise its core functionalities and deliver enhanced digital experiences to customers in key Asian markets such as Singapore, Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia, and Vietnam.

Andrew Lim, CEO of UOI, stated:

"This partnership marks an important milestone in our transformation journey and is a significant step toward our goal of making insurance more accessible, efficient, and customer centric. By leveraging cutting-edge technology, we will empower our distribution channels, enhance customer interactions, and ensure scalability across our key markets."

The partnership will enable UOI to enhance its product offerings while maintaining the agility and flexibility needed to respond to evolving customer demands in the digital age. By optimising policy issuance, claims processing, and customer engagement, UOI aims to provide policyholders with a seamless, tech-driven experience, making insurance more accessible and efficient for individuals and businesses.

Woody Mo, CEO of InsureMO, added:

"UOI is setting a new standard in how insurers can approach digital transformation. Our partnership empowers UOI to enhance its core systems and rapidly expand its footprint, all while reducing costs and time-to-market. InsureMO's platform is designed to help insurers innovate and grow in today's competitive landscape, and we're excited to support UOI in this critical endeavour."

Member of the UOB Group

Gary Hoberman, CEO and Founder of Unqork, said:

"At Unqork, our mission is to modernise complex systems at scale. Partnering with UOI and InsureMO allows us to help UOI move faster and rapidly launch new digital offerings across ASEAN."

With this strategic collaboration, UOI reaffirms its commitment to accessibility and customer satisfaction. The enhanced capabilities will help the company scale operations, improve service quality, and strengthen its position as a leader in the general insurance market.
